

Faculty feature... We mean business!

Business and Enterprise students have successfully studied real life businesses and had the opportunity to experientially apply their learning to run their own school business activities. We have had many market days this year resulting in a range of products and services being offered to the school student community. Level 2 Business Students created a wide range of delectable food products which were well supported by their peers who enjoyed different options for their lunches. The proceeds of these businesses were used to improve community wellbeing by supporting many charities.

The Young Enterprise Scheme (YES) is an integrated hands-on business programme that is completed by Level 3 Business Studies students who plan and operate their own businesses for the entire year. These students showcased and sold their products at our school Open Evening in July.

Three students were lucky enough to participate in the The AUT Shadow a Leader Programme. This programme invites New Zealand's organisation leaders to provide an opportunity for an AUT business and law student and an Auckland secondary school student to 'shadow' them for a day. It's an innovative, industry-focused and educational initiative to support the development of future leaders of New Zealand. Mila Goodhart-Pilsbury was invited to spend her day with Microsoft, Isla Halsey with The Child Cancer Foundation and Sophie Green with Foodstuffs.

MP Erica Stanford attends principals' meeting

It was a privilege to host the North Shore Principal's Group onsite last month including Minister of Education Erica Stanford. They had a very informative discussion around the education system. It was lovely to welcome the Minister and Principals to our school.
